Mrs. Elodia Christensen returned from a wonderful week of Drama at Medicine Hat. This was the Provincial Drama Festival. The plays were of high calibre and the adjudicator remarked they were the best she had seen so far. The attendance was excellent, the average being 800, at times 1,000. Much better than the city of Vancouver, who had only 300 at the opening night. Mrs. Christensen was presented with the Canadian Drama Award emblem and scroll by Mr. Leblin, who is chairman for the Drama Festivals in Alberta.

The Government representative feels that Mrs. Christensen along with Mrs. Mary Mooney, who represents her father the Lieutenant Governor of Alberta, should attend the Dominion Drama Festival which is to be held in Sherbrooke, Quebec, this spring because Alberta will be the host for this Dominion event in 1957, at Edmonton.

The tickets for the play "Macbeth" are going very nicely. We hope many will avail themselves to see this wonderful production.

A few friends called on Mildred Zaugg to surprise her on her birthday Monday January 23rd. A delightful afternoon was spent visiting and a delicious lunch was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Ron Stevenson and Mr. and Mrs. Heber Perott recently returned from a trip to Provo where the Perotts visited at the home of their daughter, the Arnold Ottensons and to see their new grand daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Christensen recently received word of a new grandson born to Mr. and Mrs. Bert Pugh of Kanab, Utah.

A farewell party was held Saturday evening January 21st for Melvin Spackman who is leaving soon for the Mission Home in Salt Lake City preparatory to a long term L. D. S. Mission to Finland. Melvin is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Spackman.

Representing the Y. M. M. I. A. and the Y. L. M. I. A. Deloy Clark was Master of Ceremonies for the following program: A reading by Geraldine Palmer, "The Leper". Ladies vocal trio by Anne Perrett, Ludine Erickson and Myra Hartley. Piano duet by Roberta Erickson and Wilma Hogeneson. Trombone solo by Grant Erickson.

Speakers for the evening were Melvin Spackman, his father T. A. Spackman and Bishop Alfred Zaugg.

The Missionary's two brothers from Cardston Drs. Fred and Roy Spackman and their wives were present.

The balance of the evening was spent in dancing and visiting.

The Reverend Nekoda of the Raymond Buddhist Temple is leaving shortly to attend a Ministers Conference which is being held in Toronto early in February.

While there the Rev. Nekoda will visit with his mother, brothers and sisters.

LAMBERT'S CONTEST WINNER

BERMUDA BOUND

Norman Bauman and Mrs. Bauman of High River, Alberta, are pictured above leaving Calgary on a two week trip to Bermuda, with a stop over in Montreal and New York City, all expenses paid. Mr. Bauman, who travels the Southern portion of Alberta, was the National winner of a sales competition among more than fifty salesmen, who represent ALFRED LAMBERT INC., well known leather and rubber footwear Manufacturers and Distributors, from Coast to Coast.

Shown handing Mr. and Mrs. Bauman their T.C.A. Tickets, is J. E. Cole, Edmonton Branch Manager for Lamberts, and Mrs. Cole.

Feathered Folk Fare Well With Birdwatchers

On a bird-watching outing, with the Audubon society, Wishart Campbell, of Scarborough, Ont., was rewarded for his efforts with a visit from this baby screech owl. Those who enjoy this pastime, which has become very popular in Canada, go out annually after Christmas to check up on and take a count of their many feathered friends. The requisites needed for such a hobby? Patience, warm clothes and a pair of binoculars.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jensen were guests on January 20th at the home of their son Mr. and Mrs. Evan Jensen the occasion being Henry's birthday. Also present were their sons, Alan, Bryant, and Raymond and their wives.

During the evening they played Rook and visited. A lovely plate lunch was served.

On arriving home from the local hospital where they had been visiting their daughter and the new grandchild President and Mrs. Golden Snow were most pleasantly surprised by a number of their friends who had assembled to honor the President on his birthday January 21st.

After recovering from the joy of the surprise the group enjoyed a sociable evening of visiting and a game of Rook. A very delicious lunch was served by the ladies.

Included in the party besides the guests of honor were, Bishop and Mrs. Bruce Galbraith, Presidents Hicken and Dahl and their wives, Bishop and Mrs. Murray Holt, Elder and Mrs. T. T. Mendenhall and Dr. an Mrs. Harris Walker.

The Four Stake Regional Arts Festival which includes drama, dance, speech and music held the Four Stake Music Institute in Lethbridge Saturday evening January 21st with a good representation of about 80 people from Calgary, Raymond, Cardston, and Lethbridge.

Ira McBride of Raymond was appointed regional chairman of the music department for this group. The enthusiastic members from these divisions practised the music to be used in the Spring Festival to be held at Raymond in May when 500 voices are expected to participate.

Last year the inauguration of this worthy enterprise was held in Cardston with 275 voices taking part.

As time goes on this work is expected to grow and to develop new talent. Each year one of the four Stakes will be privileged to be host to participants of this cultural development group.

Mr. and Mrs. Karl Dahl who will soon be leaving Raymond to make their home in Salt Lake City, have been guests at several family parties.

Entertaining for them on Friday
January 13th were Mr. and Mrs. V. T.
Connor of Lethbridge. On Friday Jan.
20th Mr. and Mrs. William Passey of Magrath brought the family together
at a dinner party.

Stainless steel kitchen utensils are easily cleaned if you don't allow deposits of food and grease to congeal
and harden. It's important to wash stainless steel promptly, because the moisture trapped under food deposits can set up a chemical action which pits the surface.

A tag rag is a treated wiping cloth
that picks up fine dust and particles that an ordinary cloth would not remove. It may be purchased at automobile supply shops and some paint stores. To store a tack rag, fold it and wrap it in aluminum foil or place it in a very small jar with a tight lid.
Tack rags make excellent dust cloths
for furniture.

A new clothesline shown in New York does away with the need for clothespins. The line consists of two steel strands each covered with vinyl plastic. The strands are twisted together and a small spreader device slides along the line opening the strands several inches in each direction. Corners of the garments are gripped tightly between the strands as the spreader moves along the line. By sliding the spreader back along the line the dried clothes are released immediately.
